The 9th Conference of the European Ornithologists' Union (28–31 August 2013, Norwich, UK)

The European Ornithologists' Union (EOU) has been founded as an equal partnership among avian biologists across Europe to provide an international forum for the advancement of European ornithology in all its aspects. The bi-annual conferences provide ideal platforms to get in contact, exchange ideas and disseminate knowledge. The Council of the EOU and the local organisers cordially invite you to join the 9th EOU conference to be held in Norwich, UK, from 28–31 August 2013.

This event will be organised jointly by the University of East Anglia (UEA) and the British Trust for Ornithology (BTO), Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB), British Ornithologists' Union (BOU), and the Edward Grey Institute of Oxford University (EGI). The conference will cover the full range of ornithological research, including both basic and applied aspects. The programme will be composed of plenaries, symposia, contributed oral presentations and poster sessions.

Information on the scientific programme, conference venue, deadlines, registration fees, contact details for the organisers, and excursions are available and will be updated on the conference website at <http://www.norwich.eouunion.org/index.php>.

For information about previous conferences (including pdfs of abstract books) and the EOU in general, please visit the EOU website on <http://www.eouunion.org>.
